Full Stack Developer

Description

The Full Stack Developer is responsible for writing clean efficient code to build and extend the functionality of BetterNight's product lines and operational support initiatives. Strong cross functional and top down communication skills are a critical component of this position. Part of this role involves communication of the technical project components to employees and company leaders. A key expectation of this position is to translate technical situations/scenarios and terms to non-technical managers and employees. This is a fully remote position. The successful candidate must be able to work remotely yet remain connected to the Dev team and internal/external stakeholders.

Responsibilities

- Writes clean, maintainable and efficient code in Ruby, Angular, and Python, including both back end and front end work.
- Coding in Ruby and Python is required
- Designs robust, scalable and secure features
- Understands HTML/CSS
- Strong understanding of front end and back end development
- Developing scripts to support operational processes (both UI and API based)
- Developing restful APIs
- Working with SQL data
- Writing unit and integration tests
- Understands basic network infrastructure, AWS, security
- Self-starter and comfortable communicating directly with the business and clinical stakeholders
- Able to understand operational processes in order to create the appropriate code solution
- Excellent troubleshooting and problem solving skills in complex technical environments
- Offers technical advice on design, coding and project implementation to internal team members
- Partners with clinical, operational and business development staff within BetterNight / Sleep Data to develop products that support client groups and end users
- Must be hard working, team oriented, bright, creative, collaborative, cooperative, and an exceptional problem solver
- Quality-focused, detailed individual
- Strong interpersonal skills and ability to interact effectively with members and staff
- Excellent oral and written communication skills
- Must be able to read, write, and speak English fluently

Hiring organization

Employment Type
Full-time

Job Location
Remote work from: United States

Date posted
November 18, 2026

Contacts
info@betternight.com