Description

We are seeking a motivated and creative individual to join our design team. The ideal candidate will assist in the development of visual concepts and layouts for various projects, including marketing materials, digital content, and branding initiatives. Responsibilities include collaborating with senior designers, participating in brainstorming sessions, and contributing to the overall design process. The role requires proficiency in design software such as Adobe Creative Suite, strong attention to detail, and the ability to work on multiple projects simultaneously. A passion for design and a willingness to learn and grow within the team are essential. Candidates should possess strong communication skills and the ability to take constructive feedback. A portfolio showcasing relevant design work is required for consideration.
